Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 04 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and windy with showers, most frequent in the north.

Today:
A cold, windy day, with bright spells and occasional showers. The showers will be most frequent in the north, and may give some longer spells of rain in during the afternoon, perhaps with hail and snow over the Staffordshire moors. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will continue through Saturday evening, but they will become increasingly isolated during the early hours with some long clear spells developing, especially further west. Remaining rather windy. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunny spells and isolated showers on Sunday, with the showers wintry at times over the highest ground. Feeling cold in the brisk northerly wind. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rain and perhaps some hill snow on Monday, but brighter late in the day. Very windy Tuesday with rain followed by showers. Continuing cold, windy and unsettled Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.